Short Buckets

In today's fast paced world, more meals are prepared outside of the home than in. The majority of consumers believe that packaging makes a big difference in food quality. For this reason, a vast majority of food service providers plan to enhance their take-out program by upscaling their packaging. International Paper is pleased to introduce a new product line specifically designed to address these emerging consumer trends and retailer needs.

Load It, Lid It and You're Good to Go!
